

I am in agreement with RM-10803 regarding licensed Low Power AM service. I believe that licensed Low Power AM service would fill a badly needed gap in the broadcast industry. It not only would be able to provide valuable community information and entertainment to a very small localized audience but would also provide a "re-invention" of the AM band. Part 15 broadcasting is a wonderful means to reach the very local audience and provide them with information that is pertinent to their community but, on the same token the restrictions make it difficult if not impossible to do this effectively. Low Power AM for individuals and organizations would be the answer. Thank you for your consideration.
